CORNELI Urbana

proved

HIGHEST YIELDING TOMATO

NORTH ▶ Highest in both early and total yield of all varieties (over 100, including hybrids!) tested in 1951 tomato variety trials at Vineland, Ontario.

SOUTH ▶ Highest yielding tomato for the last two years in STEP (Southern Tomato Exchange Program) Trials of the 13 cooperating Southern state experiment stations.

EAST and WEST ▶ All-America Award Winner for 1951 as a result of nation-wide trials by judges of the All-America Selections Committee.

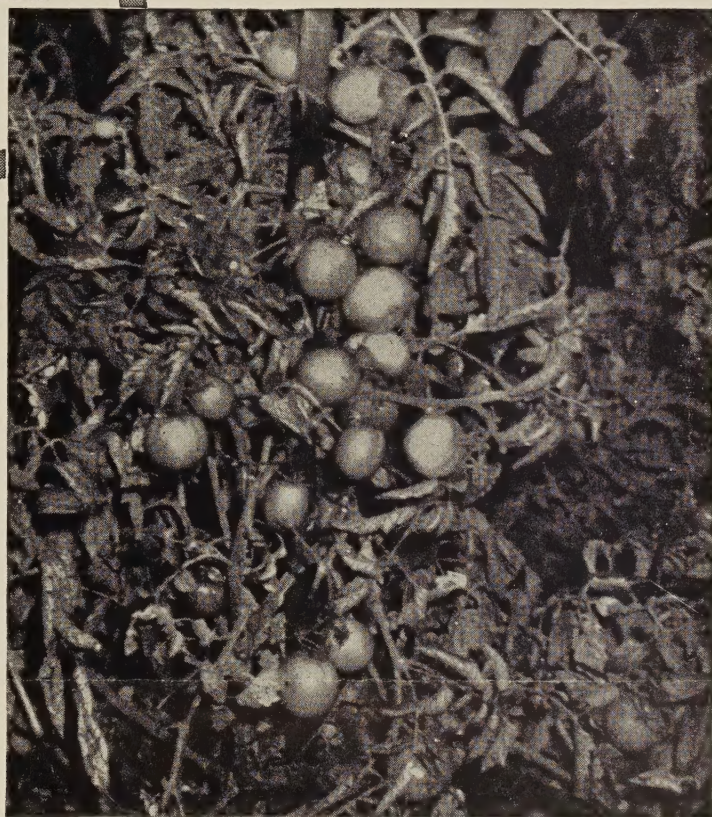

Many independent growers from all over the country have told us it is the heaviest yielding tomato they have ever planted.

VINES

are heavy-bearing, compact, bushy, with many short branches. A spread per plant of 2 to 3 feet gives a high number of plants per acre . . . easy mechanical cultivation.

FRUIT

is rich in color, of medium size with a smooth, globe shape. Firm flesh, thick walls, small seed cavities make the Corneli Urbana a stand-out variety.

BOOK NOW FOR 1953!
Many were disappointed when seed supply became exhausted this year.

This superb, widely-adapted tomato was selected and introduced by Corneli from parent stock bred by Prof. W. A. Huelsen of the University of Illinois. The Urbana matures 5 days earlier than Rutgers.
